

Ratna Amin, FPPA SF '05, and husband Doug Johnson became first-time parents to son Kiran Amin Johnson, born on June 1, 2009.

Hon. Phil Angelides, FPPA LA '75, former California State Treasurer, was appointed by Speaker Nancy Pelosi and Majority Leader Harry Reid as chairman of the Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission, a congressional commission created to examine the domestic and global causes of the financial crisis.

Kelly Cheng, EL EB '04, graduated from Stanford last month and will start a new job this summer for Deloitte Consulting, Strategy and Operations as a business analyst.

Regina Chien, EL SF '02, since graduating from Smith in 2008, has been in a training program at Deutsche Bank in NYC in credit risk management. The program's international rotation has her in Singapore until mid-July and then Hong Kong until the end of August.

Erin Donahue, EL SF '99, is a business development manager for Ste. Michelle Wine Estates, where she manages three teams of sales representatives throughout the Bay Area. She is a grad of UC San Diego.

Jacob Fisher, FPPA SF '02, is a development officer at Pennrose Properties in Philadelphia, specializing in affordable housing. He and wife Ronnie have an eight-month-old son, Peter.

Carrie Flemister, EL EB '05, is interning this summer at SKJ Fashion Chaos in Atlanta, where she attends Clark Atlanta University.

Ben Matranga, EL SF '99, is working in Monrovia, Liberia for George Soros's social investment fund on private sector job creation.

Sajaira Montiel-Kent was born on June 16 to her parents, Alexandra Kent (CLP '03 and former Coro staff member), and Lerry Montiel. Alexandra, who recently was promoted to director of The Purpose Prize, is currently on maternity leave and interested in hearing from Coro alumni who worked with her.

Alex Padilla, FPPA LA '95, has been chosen by San Francisco Mayor Gavin Newsom as chairman of his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The former Los Angeles City Council member may help Newsome make inroads with Hispanics in Southern California.

Nikesh Patel, EL SF '04, is living in Foster City this summer doing research at Stanford and working on projects in the Bay Area. He spent last fall in England studying at Oxford, which he reports was an amazing experience.

Jenille Rimando, EL SF '99, and husband Jason Padua, are the proud parents of three sons, Nate, 7, and twins Chris and Evan, 3. Jenille graduated from UC Santa Cruz in 2004, and is currently working at UCSF in the Academic HR unit. She plans to apply to UCSF's Master's Program in Nursing.

Kevin Shieh, EL SF '02, is currently attending Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York in the MD/Ph.D. program. For the past two years, Kevin has been in eye research at Smith Kettlewell in San Francisco.

Seth Steward, FPPA SF '00, joined the San Francisco City Attorney's office as an assistant city attorney in November 2008. He moved to San Francisco following a two-year stint as deputy district attorney in Multnomah County, Oregon.

Michael Wang and Wayland He, EL SF '07, both were recent recipients of four-year scholarships from Meritus College Fund, which works to bridge the gap to higher education to low-income San Francisco public high school graduates. Michael begins his freshman year this fall at USC and Wayland at UC Santa Cruz. Congratulations to them both.

Michelle Zapata, FPPA SF '97, welcomed her second child on May 13, 2009 with the birth of a second son, Noah.