

Vicenta Arrizon, FPPA 2005 SF, is a recruiting assistant with Boston Consulting Group, an international strategy and management consulting firm whose mission is to help leading corporations create and sustain competitive advantage.

David Hurford, Jr. FPPA 1974 SF, is a managing director of Cushman & Wakefield in Southern California.

Fatima Kassam, FPPA 2002 SF, has reunited with her Coro political campaign placement supervisor Mark Mosher (see below) as the deputy director of the California Commission on Jobs and Economic Growth, focusing on removing barriers to keeping jobs in the state, among many other objectives. Fatima worked in Africa on international development projects and earned an MA in economic development and international economics last year.

Bruce Jang, FPPA 2006 SF, is a Funder Services Manager at the Taproot Foundation, a San Francisco-based pro bono consulting firm for nonprofits. He is also the new Board Secretary of the Coro National Alumni Association.

Gizelle Mapanda, EL 2003, is in nursing school at Samuel Merritt College in Oakland following three years of pre-requisite schooling at St. Mary's College of California. Gizelle participated in the Bonner Leadership program and is a volunteer at a senior center for residents with dementia.

Masum Momaya, FPPA 2000 SF, is the Curator of Women, Power & Politics at the International Museum of Women in San Francisco.

Mark Mosher, CF 1993, currently serves as the Executive Director for the California Commission for Jobs and Economic Growth, which works with some of the state's most prominent leaders from business, labor, academia, and community organizations. He is also a political strategist and media consultant as a partner at Barnes, Mosher, Whitehurst, Lauter & Partners, and was the founder of San Francisco Works, the innovative welfare-to-work initiative launched by the Committee on Jobs, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and the United Way.

Terry Nagel, CLP 2003, won a second four-year term on the Burlingame City Council in November.

Monica Rico, FPPA 1991 SF, is an assistant professor of history at Lawrence University in Appleton, WI.

Monica Villalobos, FPPA 2002 SF, is the executive director at Transportation and Land Use Collaborative of Southern California.

Midge Wilson, CF 1990, executive director of the Bay Area Women's and Children's Center, is the Chair of the Koshland Committee and a former Koshland Awardee. She also serves on the board of trustees of San Francisco Day School and is Board President of the Tremors Youth Synchronized Skating Team of the San Francisco Bay Area.

Tara Wolfson, FPPA 2004 SF, lives in Boise, ID, with her husband and two-year old daughter Petra with their second child due in April. Tara is currently running a congressional campaign for Walt Minnick.

Yiaway Yeh, CLP 2002, won one of four seats on the Palo Alto City Council last month, at age 29 making him the youngest councilmember. Congratulations Yiaway!